The Giants won both of their games from the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday. The second game was a walk-over for the New Yorks and was stopped at the end of the eighth inning on account of darkness. Wiltse shut the Cardinals out in the first centest. Brooklyn and Chicago split even, while rain prevented the Pittsburg-Boston game. In Cincinnati rain prevented the first game, but the Phillies beat the Reds in the second, which was played on a wet field. The results:

GAMES FOR

The third game in the series between the West Ends and South Ends is on the books for tomorrow afternoon at Newfield at 3:30 o'clock. An erroneous report has gone out that this series is for the city championship, but such is not the case, but is to see which is the better team. In the agreement that has been drawn up by the representatives of both clubs there is no mention of any kind of champions of the Lenox Juniors when they practice out this evening. The following are asked to be on duty: Greather, are asked to be on duty: Greathe is no mention of any kind of cham-pionship. It is probable for this rea-son that the South Ends will engage in a series with other clubs for the city championship, as they are really a city team, every player making his home within these limits. As for the game tomorrow afternoon the West Ends will attempt to make it three straight, but the O'Brien crowd have taken the remarks cast at their players to heart and will make a stronger. ing to heart and will make a stronger endeavor to win out. WITH THE LOCAL FOOTBALL TEAMS

The R. H. W. C. football team of West Haven have a few open dates for Saturday afternoons, and challenge any team in the State whose players average about 125 pounds. Address all challenges to Manager Field, P. O. Box 404, New Haven, Conn., or Capt. Frank Robinson, 71 North Union ave-nue, West Haven, Conn.

by the kind order of the Park Commissioners. The on-lookers had every opportunity to view every event with comfort from the bank of the boulevard. The police department handled things efficiently. One of the out of town competitors, tickled to death with the whole situation, remarked that Bridgeport was the only place in the State where such splendid facilities for athletics existed. It is true that no other city in the country comes to mind where games of this sort—championship events with worthy prizes—have been held in a public park and financed successfully.

Two things were wrong on Saturday, however. In the first place, the management had no definite means of receiving the shekels that were so gen—ceiving the shekels that were so gen—c lies were offered the competitors.

Regarding the former point, it might be mentioned that the expenses which amounted to a couple of hundred dollars were met mainly by the committee getting busy and interesting the generous people of the town. A little was collected at the field but not nearly as much as should and would have been collected had the management been able to approach the spectators in a more polite and direct way. Enough said on this point. Don't like to talk money, anyway.

Play is an important factor in the life of a city like this. Clean sport, such as seen at the games on Saturday, plays an important part in the city's physical and moral health. The

It would cost the city a comparatively small amount to bulld and mainfain a public locker room and a shower-bath or two. As it is now, Mr. Keegan, the keeper, is kept busy "keepin' things for fellers."

Good sport and play in the open air is essential to a city's best welfare. Bridgeport has plenty of open air, and can have the good competitive sport because the interest in it is known to exist. But the former is not made the best use of, and the latter is not indulged in for the simple reason that the medium does not exist. A dressing room and a couple of shower-
